

Living Well North Tyneside

Supporting Health and Wellbeing

VODA (Voluntary Organisations Development Agency) is a registered charity. We provide advice, training, information and support to volunteers and voluntary and community organisations working in North Tyneside.

VODA supports groups and organisations of all sizes, helping them to set up and grow and to ensure they have the correct advice and information needed to operate effectively.

VODA also runs North Tyneside's Volunteer Centre, which supports individuals wishing to volunteer and organisations that involve volunteers in their work.

VODA works locally, regionally and nationally to promote the value and needs of the voluntary and community sector in North Tyneside, helping to encourage and develop networks and partnerships between the voluntary and community sector and others. For more information visit our website here.
