

Living Well North Tyneside

Supporting Health and Wellbeing

To the ground floor there is a lounge, dining room, communal kitchen, conservatory and separate laundry facilities. The home has a small town garden to the front and an enclosed courtyard to the rear which is accessible to service users.

Due to the layout of the property, there are no accessible rooms at Parkvale for people with mobility issues.

The services at Parkvale are related to the continued rehabilitation of learning disabled people in to the community, and we believe such inclusion in social activities is central to the continued growth and development of each person.

Parkvale is dedicated to supplying care of the highest standards for all of our service users. This will ensure that those who are placed in our care have their physical, mental, emotional and social needs met.

Parkvale is externally audited and reviewed by the Care Quality Commission. See the report here
